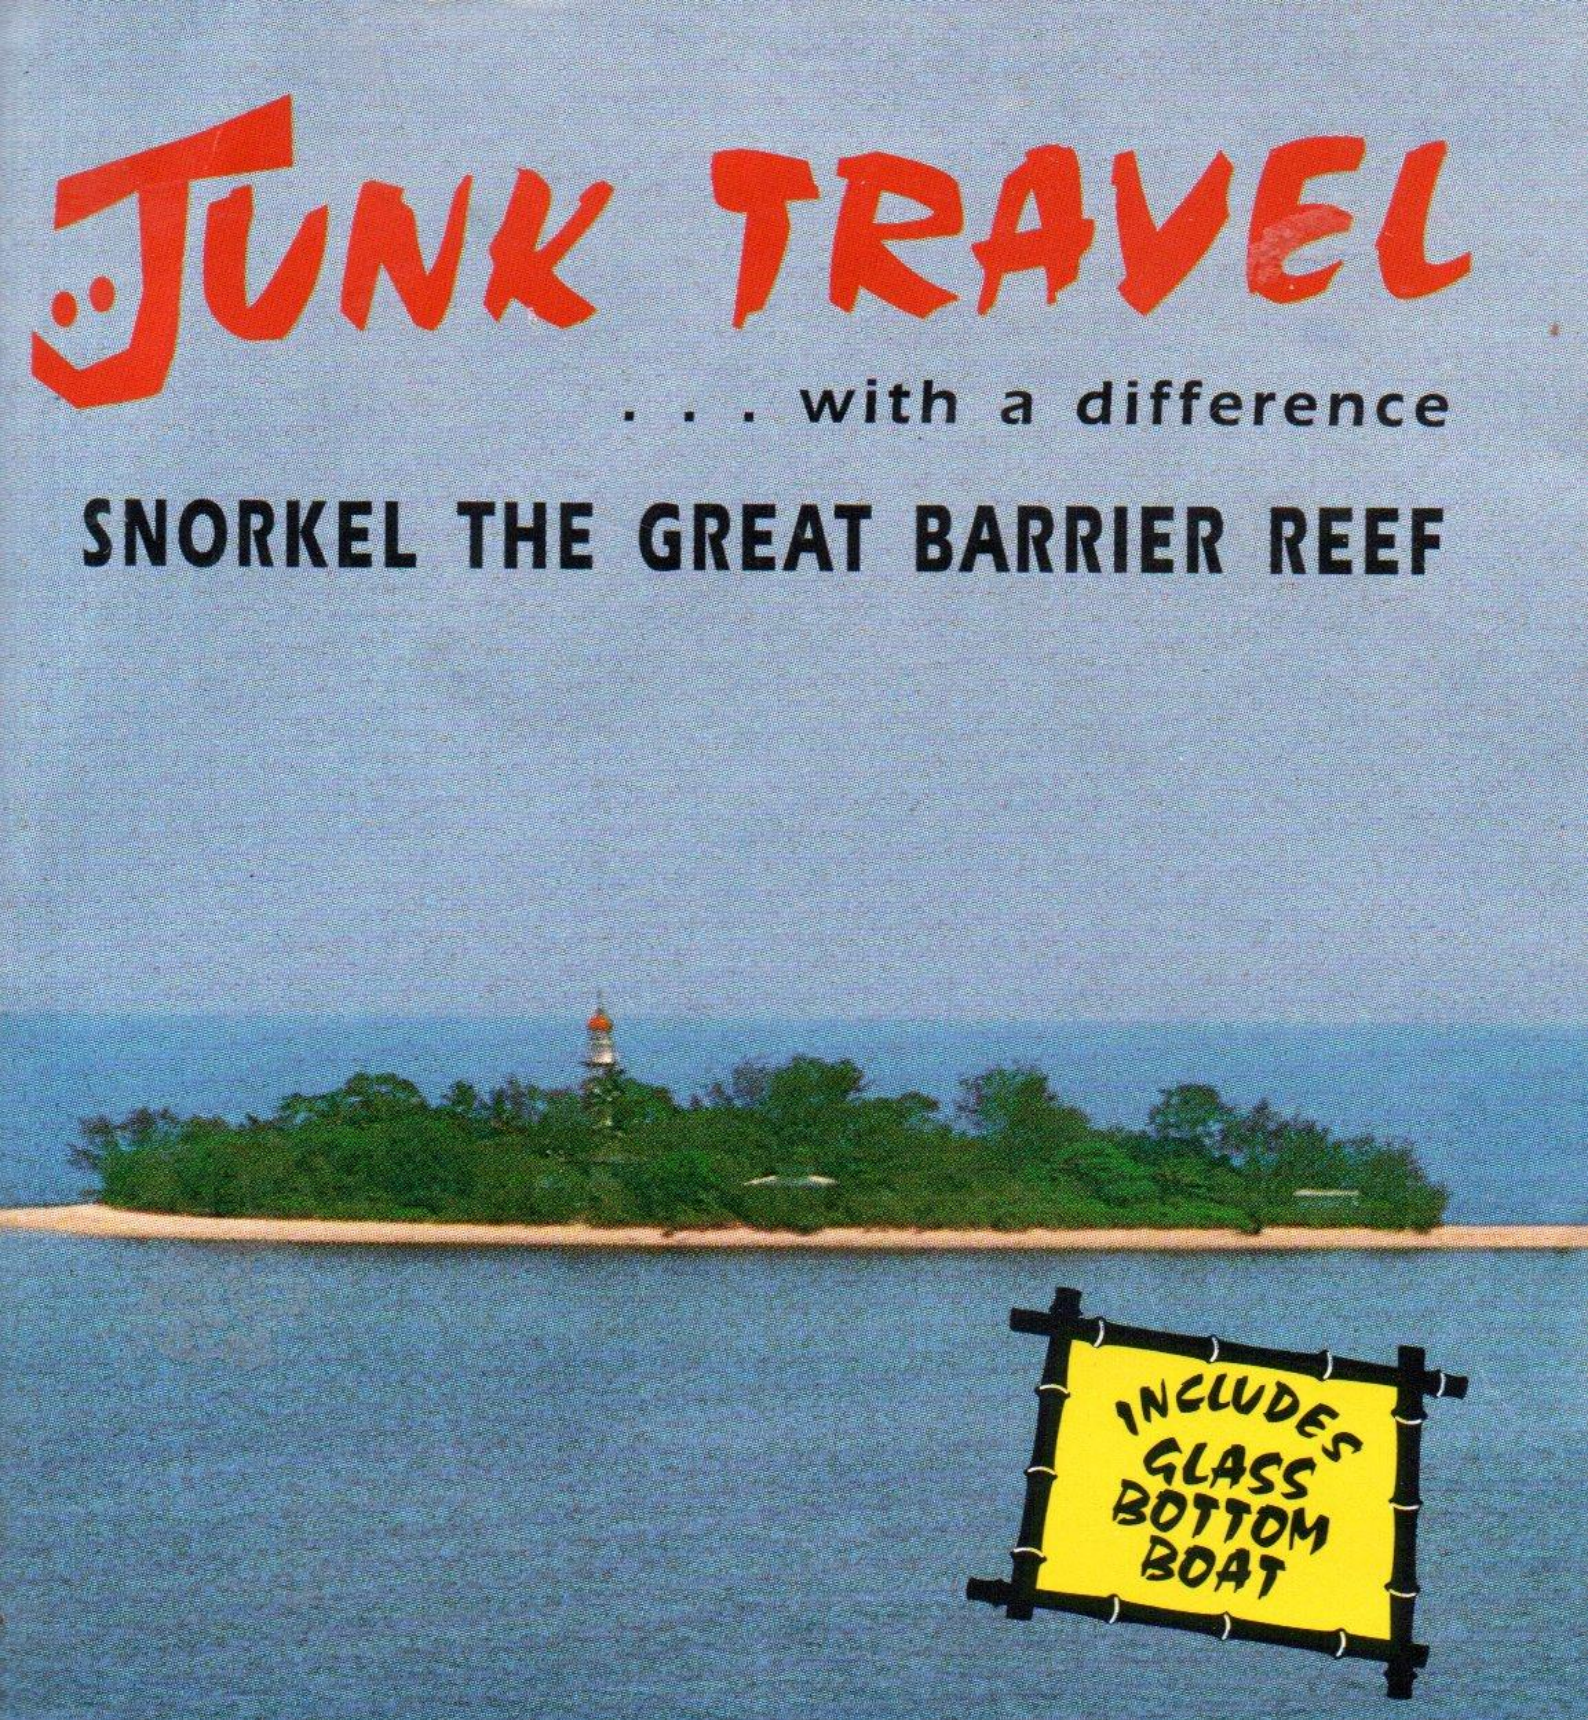
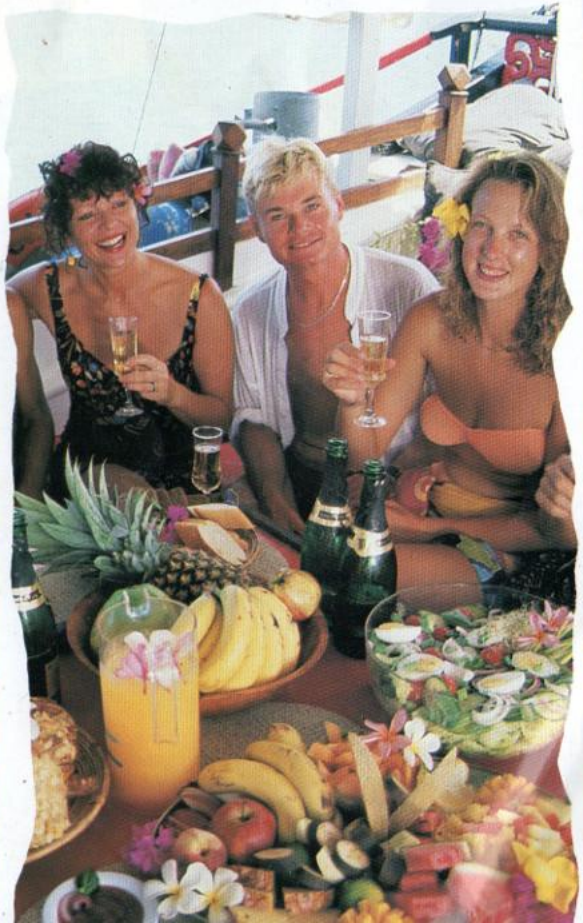
SNORKEL THE GREAT BARRIER REEF

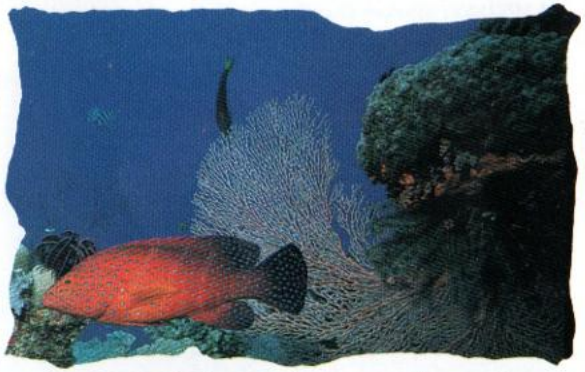


SHAOLIN

PORT DOUGLAS



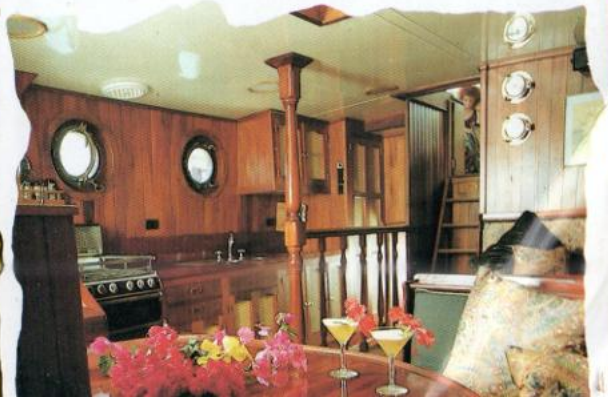
Shaolin cruised the South China sea for sixteen years before "retiring" to Australia for a refit and a change of heart and purpose. Refitted throughout in exquisite, warm teak, yacal and kalantis she's a classic made better. Can you refuse her? Can you say 'no' to her sun drenched decks and her batwing sails? If you're even one ounce a romantic, you can't. Don't even try — come aboard and be utterly seduced by her grace and charm.

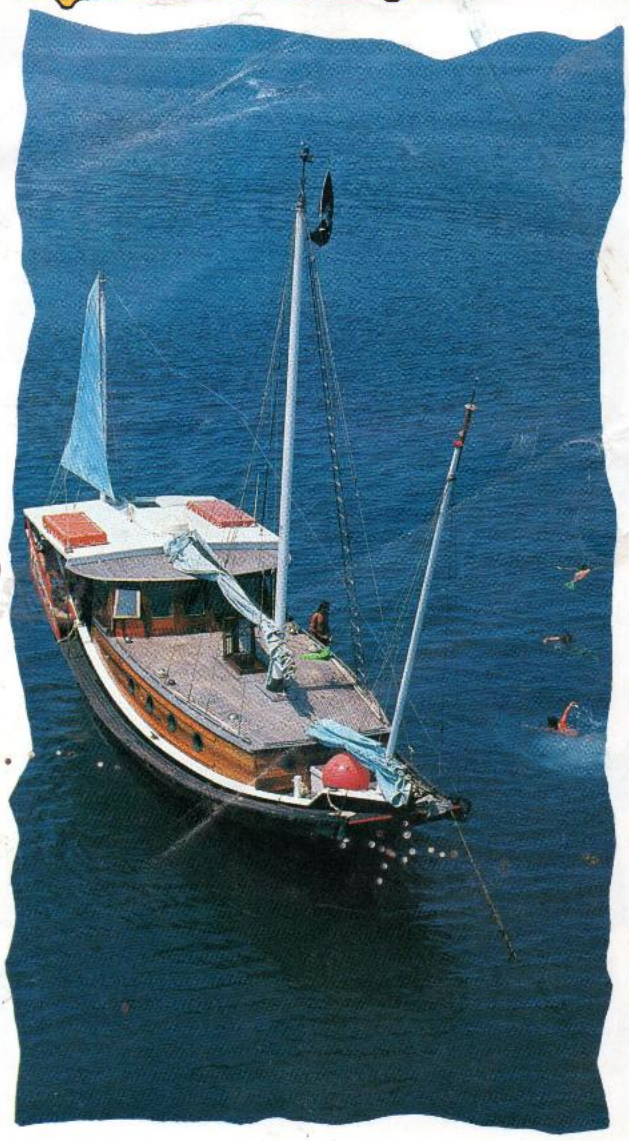


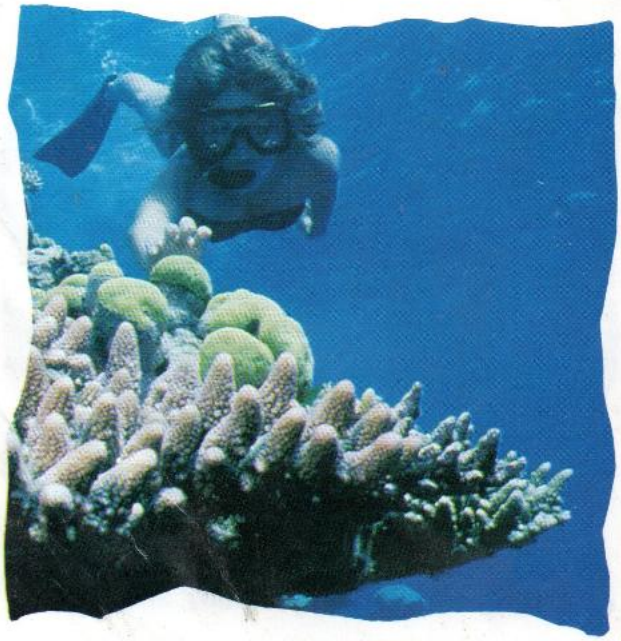
The orientals, better than most, have always had words, even activities, for it. Yoga, Tai Chi, meditation — in English it's known as plain old relaxation. On board the Shaolin a classic South Seas cruising vessel, superbly fitted throughout — we can show you a way. Slow not fast. Comfortable not crowded.

The Shaolin's destination is the idyllic Low Isles lagoon, a leisurely hour and a half sail from the Port Douglas Marina. Discovered by James Cook in 1770, these historic isles are now home only to the abundance of colourful marine life which inhabits it five acres of brilliant coral sea gardens.

Out on the reef, let our expert instructors introduce you to the underwater magic of snorkelling. Or the excitement of boom netting. Stretch out and soak up the sun. Or simply sink back into the shaded luxury of the 'poop' deck, and enjoy a long lazy gourmet lunch.







Low Isles Cruise includes:
